

30 students from USMF participated in the finals of the “Quiz Pro Integrity” Championship, organized by the NAC. The team from the Faculty of General Medicine ranked first

The National Anti-corruption Centre organized the finals of the “Quiz Pro Integrity” Championship for students of the “Nicolae Testemițanu” State University of Medicine and Pharmacy. The competition was attended by 30 students, organized into six competing teams, who demonstrated solid knowledge about integrity and ethics in the medical field.

The students were faced with thematic questions, problem situations and scenarios inspired by the practice of the healthcare system, being challenged to identify ethical and professional solutions.

The event highlighted the importance of training a generation of professionals who respect high standards of integrity in medicine.

The final ranking was as follows:

1st place: the team of the Faculty of General Medicine

2nd place: the team of the Faculty of Medicine and Pharmacy

3rd place: the students of the Faculty of Public Health

All participants received recognition diplomas, and the winning teams were awarded for their performances. The event is part of the project "Health Equity through Social Accountability", implemented by the Swiss Red Cross in partnership with AO HOMECARE and AO CASMED, with financial support from the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation.
