The National Anti-corruption Centre (NAC) concluded the national campaign “No Corruption at BAC”, carried out in partnership with the Ministry of Education and Research and the National Agency for Curriculum and Evaluation. The NAC officers organized information sessions for the republican examination and evaluation commissions for the national BAC exams. Participants were encouraged to show responsibility and report any attempted corruption to the National Anti-corruption Line, by calling the telephone number 0800 55555. In total, over 650 people were trained by NAC officers on integrity standards.

In the context of the “Integrity for Health” campaign, the NAC officers, together with anti-corruption volunteers, organized information activities and discussion sessions with the medical staff of the Rîșcani Health Centre. The topics addressed aimed at preventing corruption, respecting integrity norms and strengthening transparency in the medical system.

Information actions on professional ethics, respecting conduct norms and promoting integrity standards were also organized for employees of the National Penitentiary Administration, the Southern Probation Inspectorate and the National Inspectorate of Public Security.

In the same context, integrity standards in the private sector were discussed with representatives of S.A. “CET-Nord”, within the activities dedicated to promoting the culture of institutional and corporate integrity.

Also, the NAC officers participated, as trainers, in training sessions organized by the National Institute of Public Administration and the Training Center of the National Penitentiary Administration, contributing to the strengthening of professional capacities in the field of integrity and corruption prevention.

The National Anti-corruption Centre continues its training and awareness-raising activities, in order to strengthen a climate of integrity in public institutions.
