

National Anti-corruption Centre has launched “Integrity in Children’s Understanding” campaign in holiday camps

The National Anticorruption Center (CNA) together with the team of anticorruption volunteers have launched the “Integrity in Children’s Understanding” information campaign, an educational initiative aimed at promoting ethical values and preventing corruption from a young age.

The first activity of the campaign took place in the “Camping” holiday camp in the city of Vadul lui Vodă, where over 70 children participated in an interactive session dedicated to understanding the notions of corruption, integrity and fairness in everyday life. Through games, discussions and age-appropriate examples, children were encouraged to recognize the importance of honest behaviour and adopt solid moral values.

The activity ended with a fun contest – “Pro Integrity Quiz”, where participants tested their acquired knowledge, in an atmosphere full of smiles, enthusiasm and applause. The exercise gave the children not only a better understanding of the subject, but also the confidence that they can become little ambassadors of integrity.

The campaign will continue throughout the summer in several camps across the country, with the objective of contributing to the formation of a new generation that rejects corruption and opts for integrity.
